

CONGRESSIONAL.
XXVI CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.
WASHINGTON, March 3.
HOUSE.—Mr. Milson was unwilling that the House should seem to be indifferent to a struggle with the government, and dignified by so many historical recollections. He therefore offered the resolution, providing for the election of a Chaplain to officiate at the funeral of the Chaplain already elected by the Senate.

Mr. Houston objected, contending that the resolution was not a question of privilege, there being no law for the election of a Chaplain.

Mr. Milson replied, saying that there should be a daily invocation for Divine assistance and protection, and it should not be in the name of one man by a solitary objection to defeat all conventional duties and obstruct the rules of the House.

Mr. Houston regarded Mr. Milson's remarks as extraordinary and repelled them.

Mr. Clemens, however, there is a law of Congress, fixing the salaries of the Chaplains at $750 per year; hence there is authority to select one.

Mr. Milson had an essay to deliver on the subject.

The Speaker following the precedent, decided that the resolution was a question of privilege.

Several gentlemen raised points of order and desired to extend an invitation to all ministers to officiate alternately.

Mr. Houston appeared from the Speaker's decision, which appeal was on motion of Mr. Milson, tabled.

Much confusion prevailed throughout the discussion—half a dozen gentlemen speaking at once.

Mr. Barkside moved to table the whole subject. Negatived, 69 against 116.

Mr. Milson's resolution was adopted.

Mr. Sherman moved that the House proceed to the business on the Speaker's table, with the view of acting on the bill, regulating the mileage of members at 25 cents per mile. The distance being computed by a straight line.

Mr. Sherman moved a resolution, referring the subject to the committee of the Whole on the State of the Union. Disagreed to by 40 majority.

He then moved a suspension of the rules in order to introduce and print a resolution for the improvement of Harbor of Chicago.

Mr. Stanton said, that if such motions were to be introduced, his colleague (Sherman) might abandon his hope to reach the mileage bill to-day.

The House refused to suspend the rules, only 36 voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Sherman gave notice that he would, to-morrow, renew his motion.

He asked leave to offer resolution, referring the subject of the Pacific Railroad to a select committee of fifteen; if the committee were ordered he should decline serving on it.

Mr. Coray objected to its introduction.

Mr. Sherman moved a suspension of the rules—agreed to. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Burroughs asked—but unsuccessful, leave to offer a resolution for the appointment of a committee of nine, to inquire into the expediency of aiding New York to construct a ship canal around the Falls of Niagara.

Mr. Barkside also asked leave to offer a resolution, proposing the Senate concurring to adjourn on the 4th of June.

Mr. Grover suggested an amendment, that Congress adjourn when all its business was transacted.

The House refused to suspend the rules, 35 to 63—not two thirds.

Mr. Coray asked leave to offer a resolution for the appointment of a select committee of five for the purpose of investigating whether the President, or any other officer of the government, has, with money, patronage, or any other improper means, sought to influence Congress.

Mr. Florence objected to the introduction—the charges should be specified.

Mr. Underwood—Let the gentleman state what disunion acts have been committed.

Mr. Burroughs objected to the debate as out of order.

Mr. Underwood said it was not in order to make vague, loose and indefinite charges for investigation. The gentleman should state the grounds for his inquiry; if the gentleman would on his own responsibility state that he knew or has been informed that bribes had been received, he would not object to an investigation, but he did object to charges by insinuation.

Mr. Grover objected to the debate.

The Chair (Mr. Coffey temporarily presiding) overruled Mr. Florence's point—the argument would be appropriate if the rules should be suspended.

Mr. Florence reported the charges are too vague and indefinite; he therefore objected to the resolution.

(Cries of order from the Republican side.)

Mr. Coray said something about the Charleston Navy Yard, to which Mr. Florence replied he was much in favor of settling out corruption as his colleague was, but he wanted a reason for the investigation.

Mr. Florence reported the charges—too vague and indefinite.

(Cries of order from the Republican side of the House.)

Mr. Coray said something about the Charleston Navy Yard.

Mr. Florence replied he was much in favor of settling out corruption as his colleague was.

SENATE.—The Senate met at 1 o'clock.

Mr. Haun presented the credentials of Milton S. Latham, Senator from California, who appeared, was sworn in and took his seat.

Mr. Sumner introduced a resolution calling for the President for copies of all correspondence on the file of the Department of State relating to the propositions on maritime law and neutral rights by the Congress of Paris of the 16th of April, 1856.

The bill to create an additional Land Office in Washington Territory was taken up and passed.

The bill to authorize the sale of arms to the States was taken up.

Mr. Fessenden offered an amendment that to State or Territory be allowed to purchase a greater number of arms than her just proportion, to be determined upon the basis of its population.

Without further action, the special order came up, being the bill to amend the act establishing the Court of Claims.

Mr. Bayard explained the bill and advocated its passage. He said there was a necessity for an increase of the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims, to give an opportunity to obtain justice to claimants.

Mr. Hale moved to amend that the claims shall be paid out of any money in the treasury, or its appropriation may be made. He thought it unfair for Congress to give up the power to any Court.

After discussion the amendment was lost. Mr. Toombs moved to amend so that the provisions of the bill shall not extend to obligations arising under the laws granting pensions, other than their original contracts for services and gratuities. Carried.

Mr. Hale moved to amend; that the claims be specifically estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

This was discussed by Benjamin Colamer and others, and lost.

Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 6.

HOUSE.—Mr. Schwartz asked that failed to obtain leave to introduce a resolution to instruct the committee on Mileage to inquire into the expediency of restoring the compensation of Congressmen to what it was formerly; and into the expediency of reducing the mileage.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill reported last week, of which a synopsis has been given, for the protection of female passengers on board emigrant ships.

Mr. John Cochrane offered two amendments, which were agreed to, providing that a process be issued against offenders in the English, French or German language, and that suit can be brought within one year of the time of the arrival of the vessel in port.

The bill was passed.

Mr. John Cochrane, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the simplification and codification of the revenue laws, and a lengthy communication from the Secretary of War, communicating official reports of the difficulty on the Rio Grande.

A motion was made to take up the bill which was carried, 37 yeas, 17 nays.

LOUISIANA DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Baton Rouge, March 6.

The Democratic State Convention met and organized to-day.

Resolutions were offered instructing the delegates at Charleston to support the nominees of that Convention if he were a good Democrat.

A resolution was offered to sustain Mr. Davis' Territorial resolutions at Charleston—and if the principle is rejected, the delegates should withdraw.

On balloting the resolutions were rejected.

A series of resolutions were adopted—expressing admiration of the patriotism and conservatism of Northern men, concurring in Buchanan's Administration, embodying the principles of Davis' Territorial resolutions, recommending the third tier, that the vote of Louisiana be cast as a unit, that in case of the election of a Black Republican President Louisiana should meet her sister slaveholding States in council for future measures of protection.

The delegates are untrammelled with instructions, but Slidell is recommended for the Presidency.

They also pledge the Democracy to support the nominees of the Charleston Convention.

E. Lagra and Richard Taylor were elected delegates at large, after which the Convention adjourned.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

New York, March 6.

The Tribune's correspondent says: "Secretary Fish's report before the Harper's Ferry investigation, and testified to the receipt of an anonymous letter, already published, warning him of a threatened attack on the Government Arsenal in Maryland. As there was none in that State, he thought the letter a hoax, which detected itself."

"Thaddeus Hyatt returned to the city to-day with the Sergeant at Arms, and will appear at the bar of the Senate immediately."

"Mr. Gurley, of the Committee on Printing, will present a bill to-morrow, directing that the printing and binding authorized by Congress of the Executive and judicial departments and the Court of Claims be executed under the charge of the Superintendent of public printing, who shall be authorized to contract for at least the erection or purchase of the necessary buildings, materials and machinery for that purpose."

FROM BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, March 6.

The Maryland House last evening, by a vote of 55 to 5, accepted an address, requesting the Governor to remove from office Judge Stump, of the Criminal Court of this city. The case comes off in the Senate to-day. The Senate last evening passed a bill empowering the city of Baltimore to indemnify half a million dollars of bonds of the Northern Central R.R.

The drivers of two city railway cars had a fracas last night, one of them, named Bailey, was fatally shot.

SENATE.—The President laid before the Senate a certified copy of the Kansas Constitution.

Mr. Mason stated that the Sergeant at Arms had arrested Thaddeus Hyatt, and now moved that he be brought before the bar of the Senate and asked:

First—What excuse he has to offer for refusing to obey the summons of the Senate?

Second—Whether he is now ready to answer?

Mr. Hale moved, in addition, that the Sergeant at Arms allow him full opportunity to consult with counsel.

Mr. Mason thought they were unnecessary. The privilege would be allowed him.

Mr. Hale withdrew his amendment; the resolution was passed, yeas 42, nays 42.

Mr. Hale moved to amend that the claims shall be paid out of any money in the treasury, or its appropriation may be made. He thought it unfair for Congress to give up the power to any Court.

ke, Hale, Sumner, Wade, and Wilkinson. On motion of Mr. Mason, it was ordered that Mr. Hyatt be remanded into the custody of the Sergeant at Arms, and be given till 2 o'clock on Friday next, to answer the questions propounded.

Various reports and bills of no general interest were introduced.

The resolutions relative to the Territories being called up, Mr. Brown addressed the Senate at considerable length:

First: That slaves are property under the Constitution.

Second: That being property, the slaveholder has a right to take his slaves to the common Territory.

Third: That this right existing, the slaveholder is entitled to protection in his property in the Territories.

He then, here he differed from the majority of his party, that it was the duty of the Territorial Legislature to afford the slaveholder protection.

Mr. Gwin moved to take up the Military Academy bill so as to decide upon the amendment appropriating $1,300,000 to equip a regiment of mounted Texas volunteers.

Mr. Wigfall urged the necessity of immediate action.

Mr. Fessenden was opposed to immediate action on the ground that they had not yet heard from the President or Secretary of War.

After further discussion, a message from the President was received, enclosing Gen. Houston's letter, and a lengthy communication from the Secretary of War, communicating official reports of the difficulty on the Rio Grande.

A motion was made to take up the bill which was carried, 37 yeas, 17 nays.

THE SCANDINAVIAN PILLS AND PAIN-EXPELLER. - On January 1, 1856, Dr. Wm. Rees, in reply to inquiries made of me, gave me pleasure to say that Mrs. N. Allen, of the Society of Friends, and at present in the City of Cincinnati, previous to her going East, expressed her confidence in the efficacy of your Scandinavian Pills, and the benefit derived therefrom. She had been suffering from general prostration at times, being over seventy six years of age, and afflicted with rheumatism and the face. Various remedies were resorted to without relief, when some friends recommended a course of your Scandinavian Pills, and after taking them she was restored to health. I know many who have used your medicine, and speak of the benefits derived, thus testifying of their renovating influence in purifying the blood and giving vigor and energy to the system. They have my cordial approbation. Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, S. J. Davis.
